Welcome To "England"

By Mr. Geoffrey Cohen,
President of the V.A.S.F.A.

In this great game of ours — Soccer — it is seldom we have the privilege to meet such popular opponents as our comrades from the Old Country. No more welcome visitors can be imagined than these, representatives not only of our kith and kin, but also of the greatest football country in the world — England.

On behalf of Victorian soccer, to our English visitors I say, Welcome! May you enjoy good football and may your stay in Melbourne be a happy and enjoyable one.

In this land of ours — in this Australia of kindness, of friendship, of good humoured tolerance . . . perhaps no beverage is more at home than good Australian beer. For beer is a drink Australians like. It is a part of pleasant living, of good fellowship, of sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it . . . this too is a part of our Australian heritage of personal freedom.

How The Tour Came About

By V. J. M. DIXON

For years the Victorian Amateur Soccer Football Association has supported the Australian Association in its desire to bring from England a team of first-class professional players. This season at last it has become possible to do so. The decision to invite them was not made without considerable thought being given to the matter. The enormous estimated cost (£37,000) caused consternation when first made public. We are proud to be able to say that it was your Victorian Association that was one of the first to "take the bull by the horns," and in the person of Mr. W. R. Thomas (our Australian delegate) said definitely that they wanted the tour and gave a four-figure cash donation towards the initial expenditure.

It is regretted that the tourists cannot stay longer in Victoria. Their stay here has been a happy one, and they are an easy team for officials to get along with.

This tour, we know now, is a big success, for at last we are getting publicity. Radio stations and the Press are all giving prominence to the series, and efforts to publicise, if in some cases a trifle unusual, have had the effect of bringing many of you to this ground today to see for the first time the greatest game in the world — football.

It is confidently expected by the Australian and Victorian Associations, and by the managers and players of the English team, that this tour will be only the forerunner of many more in the next decade, the results of which will be to make the youth of Australia soccer-minded, so that they will grow up with a round ball at their feet and take their part in international football as they do in all other sports.

PEN PORTRAITS of the AUSTRALIAN XI

RON LORD (Auburn, N.S.W.), Goalkeeper. Only 21 years of age, Ron is Australia's greatest goal-keeping prospect in years. He is a master of aerial work, and represented N.S.W. in Brisbane last year. His chief rival for Test honours is the great Norman Conquest.

ERIC HEATH (Moreland, Vic.), Right-Back. Hails from Middlesbrough, England. He played with the Colts team of the First Division English side at Middlesbrough. Served with the R.N., which he represented at soccer. Later he played with English Northern League team, Whitby Town.

CEC. DRUMMOND (Leichhardt, N.S.W.), Left-Back. Back in the limelight to continue his unbroken run of Test appearances against all post-war Soccer opponents, including New Zealand (1948). Cec. possesses a big-match temperament that will prove invaluable today. A french-polisher by trade.

BOB LAWRIE (Bundamba Rangers, Q'land.), Right-Half and Captain. Learnt his soccer on the Ipswich coalfields, Queensland. Wonderful skill at playing ground passes. Every player who toured South Africa in 1950 speaks volumes for Bob's ability as skipper. Occupation is a school-teacher.

TOM JACK (Brighton, Vic.), Centre-Half and Vice-Capt. One of the finest players ever to come to Victoria. Played in Scotland for "pro" teams. Third Lanark and Dumfermline. Captained Victoria against Yugoslavia in 1949 when the tourists were held to a draw. Toured South Africa last season with Australian side.

E. DUFF (Woonona, N.S.W.), Left-Half. 21-year-old wing-half. Represented South Coast against Yugoslavia in 1940. 5 ft. 5 in. in height, a painter by trade.

JOE WILSON (Pahran, Vic.), Outside-Right. Brilliant winger whose speed, ball control and accurate shooting have not been excelled in Victoria for many years. Was a paratrooper during World War II. Played with Newcastle United reserves in England and Army representative sides. Played last year with Sandringham City and for Victoria against South Australia. This year has played in Australian Trials.

GEORGE RUSSELL (Leichhardt, N.S.W.), Inside-Right. George narrowly missed international selection on many occasions, his outfield work being brilliant, but his shooting weak. This season he has already netted 14 goals, emphasising his claims for Test selection.

GORDON "BUNNY" NUNN (Caledonians, Queensland), Centre-Forward. Played for Queensland as a schoolboy. Joined St. Helens at 15 years of age. Toured New Zealand and South Africa. Only missed one Test against the Slavs due to a shoulder injury. Type of player who would "take" in English football.

A. HEANEY (Wallsend, N.S.W.), Inside-Left. Captained Australia in 1947. Another genuine football artist, who will delight today's crowd.

ROSS "MACKA" MCKENZIE (Brighton, Vic.), Outside-Left. Local boy new to representative football. Learned soccer at Brighton Tech., and for seven years has played junior and senior football with Brighton Club. Represented Victoria (under 19) in Adelaide in 1948. Football In Australia

From the Official F.A. Itinerary.

In 1882 a few enthusiasts from the Old Country formed two Association Football clubs in Sydney. These were the Arcadians and the Wanderers. Queensland, however, not to be outdone by New South Wales, formed the Rangers F.C. in 1883. That was the start. Then, in the same year a team from New South Wales travelled six hundred miles to Melbourne for the first inter-colonial match.

The following year The Anglo-Australian Association was formed in Melbourne, and admitted to The Football Association which, in 1885, made a grant of £25 to help development. In 1886 there were four clubs: South Melbourne, Carlton, Prahran, and Melbourne Rovers, the George and George Challenge Cup being won by Carlton.

In 1890 an attempt was made to arrange intercolonial games between New South Wales and Queensland. Although further effort was made this was not to become an annual fixture until 1912. From then until 1933 forty interstate matches were played between the two, New South Wales winning 27, Queensland 9, and four matches were drawn.

On October 12, 1923, The Football Association (Australia) was established and clubs were affiliated to this national body through their District Associations in Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, Western Australia, and Tasmania. To commemorate the occasion a Challenge cup was presented by The Football Association for competition on interstate lines.

This incentive led to a request from the Australian football authorities that a representative side should visit the Commonwealth from England to demonstrate the game and play a series of Tests. The proposal became a fact, and a strong side representing England toured Australia in 1925. This team contained many well-known names, including Tom Whittaker, Stan Seymour, Charles Spencer and Jimmy Davison. Many of their matches were definitely exhibition games played with a view to popularising the code throughout Australasia. Australia herself had in 1922 sent a team to New Zealand, playing fourteen games there, winning nine, and losing four. The visit was returned and Test matches started.

In 1931 the Council of The Football Association made a substantial monetary loan to the Australian F.A. to assist it in developing the game in Queensland and New South Wales. Under the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. S. A. Storey and the Secretary, F. R. Druery, the way was paved for the next visit of an English side. This took place in 1937 when the visiting side was an all amateur one. During this tour ten matches were played, two of them by floodlight, and the Australian side gained two notable victories, the first at Sydney on July 10, 1937, when 37,295 saw them win 5-4, and the second at Newcastle when they won 4-3.
